RESULT OF THE GENEVA ARBITRATION.

Thus the object for which the American government had all along contended was attained. A decision by the arbitration of the point at issue was secured. The additional advantage was also gained that the United States would be able to fall back upon this decision (as well as upon the arguments of the British government) if ever the latter should present indirect or consequential claims. Even the Fenian claims, which the British government had repeatedly described as consequential, were now forever barred. As Gen. Schenck had well said in a dispatch of May 14th, discussing with Mr. Fish the supplementary article, "I think the principle declared in this article for future observance between the two nations is one which, if settled and maintained, must be of inestimable advantage to the United States. With our chances of being generally neutral when Great Britain and other European states are beligerent, the benefits of the rule are to be principally and oftenest ours. Our continental position, our numerous ports, the enterprising character of our citizens, and the difficulty of restraining their spirit of adventure, surely make the rule that would be established more valuable and more favorable to the United States than any other country. All this we secure in exchange for the surrender of certain claims which we were pressing before the arbitrators at Geneva, not with a view to pecuniary compensation, but only because they were a portion of the grounds of disagreement between us and Great Britain, upon which that tribunal was empowered, for the sake of perfect peace, to make an award, while we ourselves did not hesitate to admit that, it must be to our gain to have the decision against us." This, it will be remembered, was written more than a month before the declaration of the arbitrators. On the 27th of May Mr. Fish had instructed Gen. Schenck: "The object of the United States in insisting on retaining the indirect claims before the tribunal was:

"I. The right under the treaty to present them.

"II. To have them disposed of and removed from further controversy.

"III. To obtain a decision either for or against the liability of a neutral for claims of that description.

"IV. If the liability of a neutral for such claims is admitted in the future, then to insist on payment by Great Britain for those of the past.

"V. Having a case against Great Britain to have the same principle applied to it that may in the future be invoked against the United States."

After reading these communications between the statesmen who conducted the principal negotiations on the part of the United States, it will be difficult to say that their aims were not justifiable, patriotic, worthy of themselves and their country, and eminently within the scope which the world attributed to the treaty of Washington when it was signed. It would be equally difficult to show that those aims were not fully attained. But for an absurd and unnecessary clamor of the London press, the object or all the original negotiations would have been reached without ill feeling, without the ridiculous paroxysms of fright and fury into into which the British nation fell and without the chance of a great nation deliberately determining on an act of bad faith.

The purely diplomatic triumph is assuredly American, for the decision of the arbitrators is to that to which the Americans always offered to defer. Mr. Gladstone announced in the royal speech at the prorogation of parliament, August 10: "I rejoice to inform you that the controversy which had arisen between my government and the government of the United States in consequence of the presentation of the American claims for indirect damages under the treaty of Washington has been composed by a spontaneous declaration of the arbitrators." The general British view of the result, as expressed by Lord Cairns, is equally acceptable on this side of the Atlantic. When Lord Granville announced the decision of the arbitrators to the house of peers, the ex-lord high chancellor of England remarked: "So far as I have been able to gather, it would rather appear, speaking in simple language, that the result of the whole is that the arbitrators at Geneva have decided the special point which I thought we had all agreed they should not be allowed to decide—namely, the scope and extent of the treaty, and the question of what should properly come under their cognizance by virtue of that treaty. As well as I can gather, the American government has taken the decision of the arbitrators on the indirect claims as a decision which they have all along said they wished to be arrived at by the arbitrators. I must congratulate your lordships that, as things have turned out the decision has been in favor of this country: but we should have been in a very awkward position if it had been the other way."—From the Washington Treaty, Harper's Magazine for November.

REV FROTHINGHAM'S VIEWS OF HELL.

Rev. O. B. Frothingham preached to the Independent society of the city of New York, on Sunday morning on Visions of Judgment. The argument of the speaker was intended to show that the old notions of heaven and hell, such as obtained with the preachers before the time of Luther, were false, and had been proven to be so, as far as human faith and belief are concerned, by their failure to produce any lasting effect on the minds of the most enlightened people. These old theories, the speaker said, were adopted by the preachers of old because they seemed the most plausible in the eyes of people who believed absolutely in a place of eternal torture. The simplest person knew that pain was the most natural kind of punishment for evil, and pleasure the most reward for goodness. The Christian leaders therefore had pictures made claiming to represent the horrible tortures endured by the wicked after entering eternity, and other pictures purporting to represent the blissful joys which awaited the arrival of the good spirits. These pictures, especially the first kind, were always before the eyes of the poor pilgrim. They were hung in the porches of churches, stuck up on the walls, and even met the eye of travelers as they crossed over bridges These pictures were the productions of the most frightful dreams and horrid imaginations. They represented the condemned spirits as falling into dark and bottomless pits, as burning over the fire, but never burning up, as standing naked in a shower of hot hail, and as being eaten up by loathsome reptiles.

Every nation has its ideal picture of hell. Some were worse than others Most of them were hot, burning places: while those of the Egyptians and Greeks were, on the contrary, very frigid. The idea that heaven, as represented in the pictures was a place of constant pleasure, such as the best amusements ever enjoyed on earth, only exaggerrted by the use of bright colors, beautiful forms, &c. The preaching of these doctrines undoubtedly had some effect on the people of those days, but nothing like the effect it should have produced had the people really believed what was told them. The preachers continue to talk about a place of eternal punishment and torture for all who do not follow the path pointed out by them. If to-morrow it were known that all drunkards, all the prostitutes, and all the prostitute-makers would be taken into the public and there whipped there would be but a small number of such persons to be found to-morrow. But the preachers were telling the drunkards and all other vicious and wicked persons, that in a short time they were going to enter upon an eternal punishment, and still to-morrow brings as many wicked people as the day before. All the visions of judgment were wrong. The true judgment was that which comes every day.

BIG SWEETNESS.

The San Francisco Commercial has the following: In Los Angelos county, on the eastern slope of the San Fernando range of mountains, and in the immediate vicinity of the Pearning Petroleum Company's oil region, there is the most wonderful collection of wild honey in existence. The hive is located in a rift, which penetrates the rock to the depth of probably one hundred and sixty feet wide, four passages. This rift was discovered to be the abiding place of a swarm of bees, that is represented as coming out in nearly a solid column one foot in diameter. Certain parties have endeavored to descend to the immense store of honey collected by these bees, but were invariably driven back, and one man lost his life in the attempt. Others have at the expense of much labor and money, built a scaffold one hundred and twenty feet high, in the hope of reaching a place whence they could run a drift into the rock and extract its well hoarded sweets, but finally ceased their work. Within four years the bees have added not less than fifteen feet of depth to their treasure, as ascertained by actual measurement, and it is thought that at the present time there cannot be less than eight or ten tons of honey in the rock. A man named Brophy lives in a cabin not far from the spot, and obtains from the melting of the honey by the sun's heat, more than enough for his family requirements. All through that region immense stores of wild honey are found in trees, in the rocks, in nearly every place where its industrious manufacturers think—for bees seem to think—that it will be secure. They consume a very small proportion, as the climate enables them to keep up operation nearly every day in the year, and flowers of some sort are always in bloom. It must be a very severe season indeed when the little fellows are not seen abroad in vast numbers, busily engaged in their mellifluous work.

The dearest spot on earth has at last been located. Those wishing to find that spot will find it at the store that does not advertise.

Mrs. Partington, reading of the strike of the wire drawers, remarked. 'Ah, me, what new fangled things won't they wear next!'

THE THREE COACHMEN.—I heard the story a long time ago, (says a modern writer), and think it good enough to tell—and not only good, but pointing a life lesson which the wise may heed.

A certain gentleman advertised for a coachman, and of the applicants who answered the call he found three who evinced a sufficient knowledge of their business to suit him, and from these three he would select his man. For the final test he took them to a point on his premises where a broad table rock overlooked a deep chasm.

"How near," said he, to Swany McLean, "could you drive a coach and four to the edge of that precipice without the danger of going off?"

Swany measured the table with his eye, and looked down into the deep chasm undaunted.

"I could drive within a foot of it, sir."

He next put the question to John York.

John looked, and answered, with prompt assurance—

"I could drive within ten inches of it, sir."

Next came Barney O'Toole, and he was asked how near he could drive a steady double-span to the edge of the precipice, with assurance of safety.

'Bedad your honor," said Barney, after due consideration, "them fellers bate me inthirely. I should kape me horses as far from such a place as possible!"

It may be needless to add that Barney O'Toole was the chosen coachman.

The state of Ohio used to be famous for its camp meetings and religious revivals, but an Ironton paper tells us of a circumstance which lately occured in that locality, which is a strong indication that there is now something wrong either about the preachers or the people. A revival preacher who had achieved considerable reputation as to his powers in the pulpit, went to Ironton for a week, to "start a revival." He showed great zeal, preaching every night during his stay, got a double row of 'mourners' benches' ready, and called upon his congregation to come forward. The last night there was an immense gathering, and the preacher fairly out-did himself. He exhorted and pleaded, and waited, but all in vain. Not a soul rose. Finally, discouraged beyond measure, he sat down. At that juncture, a long-faced, anxious looking man got up and said that the elder had been working hard and had labored faithfully with them, and as a token of their appreciation he moved that the congregation gave him three cheers. It was done with a heartiness which made them pews tremble, and the people went home satisfied that they had fully and faithfully performed their duty. The preacher has ever since been waiting to see Ironton destroyed by fire.

THE DEER—A FABLE.

"Truly," said he, "I surpass all animals in gracefulness and majesty! How lordly do my horns tower up! But my feet how long and ugly!"

Hardly had he uttered these words, when he saw a lion springing towards him. With the greatest haste his despised feet carried him to the next forest; but suddenly his broad antlers were caught in the overhanging thicket, and he could not tear himself away.

The lion overtook and devoured him.

Learn from this not to value things for their outward appearance, but for their inner worth; otherwise you will often have to repent bitterly your unjust judgment.

Technology is defined by Professor Rudolph Wagner, the German author, as "practical natural science, having for its object the reduction of manufacturing industry to the natural principles upon which it is based and teaching the most advantageous methods and processes by which the raw materials are prepared for use." Chemical technology covers such industries as metallurgy: the treatment of specifically chemical materials and manufacture of their products; glass and pottery making; the use of fibrous materials for paper, cloth, etc.; starch, sugar, wine, beer and vinegar making, tanning, dyeing, and the like; and this work gives in detail the best methods in all these and numberless other branches of labor. Manufacturers will find it an immense help in the one problem of successful manufacture; economization, whether of raw material, fuel or time.

The most practical suggestion yet made toward economy of coal, seems to be the use of solid bottoms in fire grates. It is asserted, and indeed proved, that in any fire place not excessively small, a plate of iron placed upon the grate will save the consumption of coal, reduce the smoke, and leave a cheerful free burning fire. Quite sufficient air enters through the bars, no poking is necessary, and the fire never goes out until the coals are consumed. Any householder can try this experiment, and reduce his coal bill, say thirty per cent., at the cost of a shilling.

THE CENSUS.

The following paragraphs from superintendent Walker's census report tell his story better than the few brief lines given in the morning papers:

The cordiality with which the press and the country have recognized the early publication of the prime results of the census, has afforded ample compensation to the superintendent for all the effort that has been required to accomplish the completion of the work of compilation within two years from the conclusion of enumeration. There is no reason, however, why, with such modifications of existing laws as would insure that the materials should come originally to the census office in the former shape for tabulation, the entire compilation should not be concluded within a year from the date of the first receipt of returns. It is not possible for any one who has had such painful occasion as the present superintendent to observe the working of the census law of 1850 to characterize it otherwise than as clumsy, antiquated and barbarous. The machinery it provides is as unfit for use in the census of the United States, in this day of advanced statistical science, as the smooth-bore, muzzle-loading "Queen's-arm" of the Revolution would be for service against the repeating rifle of the present time. It ought not to be possible that another census should be taken under this law; such a thing ought not to be seriously proposed. The country has suffered more than enough already of discredit and of loss on account of the wretched inefficiency and inappropriateness of the provisions of this ill-constructed and outgrown statute.

I do earnestly recommend that the attention of congress be especially invited to the propriety and expediency of an intermediate census to be taken in 1875, in preparation for the approach ing centennial celebration of the political birth of the nation. A census of the United States taken under a system, and with a management which would secure the publication of the results by the 1st of June, 1876, would be a noble monument to erect at the end of a century of the nation's life. It would mark off the first grand stage in an industrial and social progress altogether unprecedented in history, and serve as the starting point of a fresh career which we have, under Providence, reason to believe shall be greater and happier yet.

Another consideration, which strongly influences me in this recommendation, is the belief that a census in 1875 would, in all probability, secure the taking of the federal census thereafter at intervals of five years only. The interval of ten years fixed by the constitution has been found to be far too long for all the uses to which the statistics of the census are put, except only for the redistribution of congressional representation.

So rapid are the internal changes of the country, oftentimes setting calculations at naught, so fierce and so vast the growth of the nation as a whole, that the hiatus of the statistical information at the command of the legislator, the pamphleteer, the journalist, and the social and political philosopher, five or six years after the date of the census, becomes positively painful. Whosoever will call to mind the estimates as to the population and wealth of cities, states and sections, which immediately before the occurrence of the last census were properly put forth, were made the material of political and industrial speculation, and were even taken as the basis of state and national legislation, will hardly be disposed to question that the cost of a census once in five years would be amply repaid by the light it would shed upon the condition of the people and the progress of the nation in population and wealth. Were the country once to learn by practical experience the advantages of a quinquennial enumeration, it is not likely that a longer period would ever be allowed to intervene between the federal censuses.

THE PHANTOM TRAIN.

A writer in the Albany Evening Times relates a conversation with a superstitious night watchman on the New York Central Railroad. Said the night watchman:

"I believe in spirits and ghosts. I know such things exist. If you will come up in April I will convince you."

He then told me of the phantom train that every year comes up the road with the body of Abraham Lincoln. Regularly in the month of April, about midnight, the air on the track becomes very keen and cutting. On either side it is warm and still; every watchman, when he feels this air, steps off the track and sits down to watch. Soon after, the pilot engine, with long black streams, and a band with black instruments, playing dirges, grinning skeletons sitting all about, will pass up noiselessly and the very air goes back. If it is moonlight, clouds always come over the moon, and the music seems to linger as if frozen with horror. A few moments after the train glides by. Flags and streamers hang about. The track ahead seems covered with black carpet, and the wheels are draped with the same. The coffin of the murdered Lincoln is seen lying in the centre of a car, and all about it in the air and the train behind are vast numbers of blue coated men, some with coffins on their backs, and others leaning on them. It seems, then, that all the vast armies of men who died during the war, are escorting the phantom train of the president. The wind, if blowing, dies away at once, and over all the air a solemn hush, almost stifling, prevails. If a train were passing, its noise would be drowned in the silence, and the phantom train would ride over it. Clocks and watches always stop, and when looked at are found to be from five to eight minutes behind. Everywhere on the road, about the 27th of April, the time of the watches and trains is found suddenly behind. This, said the leading watchman, was from the passage of the phantom train."

RIDE FOR YOUR LIFE.

In the sixteenth century there were no postoffices in England. Government carriers were the only bearers of letters, except the common carriers, whose principal business was the conveyance of parcels. These couriers under martial law, and in the time of Henry VIII. were subject to the penalty of hanging for delay upon the road with their dispatches, consequently the letters of those days were sometimes ornamented with a cheerful sketch of a gallows with a courier thereon suspended. Underneath was the admonition, "Haste! Post! Haste! Haste! for thy life!" Postoffices and relays of horses were then established at the principal towns along the high roads, and the postmasters indorsed on the government dispatches the day and hour of their arrival and transit. A letter dispatched from Plymouth to London in 1623, "For His Majesty's special service," bears nine indorsements. The distance two hundred and fourteen miles, by the route taken, was accomplished in fifty-seven hours, a rate of about three mile and three-quarters per hour. On part of the route the speed was greater, though six miles was the highest speed made, and on the heavy portions of the road the route was two miles and even less From the penalty attached to slow riding or halting came the proverbial saying "riding for your life," which saying is usually supposed to refer to flying from an enemy. From the taking of private letters by the bearers of the government despatches arose the wonderful conveniences of the modern postal arrangements. It was from this circumstance that the transmission of the mails has come to be a portion of the duties of governments. The transmission of government dispatches by special messengers offered facilities to the public, which, as correspondence increased, were more and more valued and improved, and commercial intercourse has been largely due to the facilities of transportation.

A sermon in a paragraph was recently given the students of Yale by professor Porter. He said:

"Young men you are the architects of your own fortunes. Rely upon your own strength of body and soul. Take for your star, self-reliance. Subscribe on your banner, 'Luck is a fool, Pluck is a hero.' Don't take too much advice—keep at your helm and steer your own ship, and remember that the great art of commanding is to take a fair share of the work. Think well of yourself. Strike out. Assume your own position. Put potatoes in a cart, over a rough road, and the small ones go to the bottom. Rise above the envious and jealous. Fire above the mark you intend to hit. Energy, invincible determination, with a right motive, are the levers that move the world. Don't drink; don't chew; don't smoke; don't swear; don't deceive; don't read novels; don't marry before you can support a wife. Be earnest; be self-reliant; be generous; be civil. Read the payers. Advertise your business. Make money, and do good with it. Love your God and fellowmen. Love truth and virtue. Love your country and obey its laws."

A GOOD WORD FOR LOCAL PAPERS.—The New York Times says you might nearly as well forget your churches, your academies and schoolhouses, as to forget your local papers. It speaks to ten times the audience that that your local minister does. It is read eagerly each week from beginning to end. It reaches you all, and if it has a low spirit and less wisdom than a sermon it has a thousand times better chance at you. Lying on every table, in almost every house, as it does, you owe it to yourselves to rally liberally to its support, and exact from it as able, high-toned a character, as you do from any educator in your midst. It is in no sense beneath notice and care—unless yourselves are beneath notice and care—it is your representative. Indeed, in its charater, it is the summation of the importance, interest and welfare of you all. It is the aggregate of your own consequences, and you cannot ignore it without miserably depreciating yourselves.

Said a young husband, whose business speculations were unsuccessful: "My wife's silver tea set, the bridal gift of a rich uncle, doomed me to financial ruin. It involved a hundred unexpected expenses, which in trying to meet, have made me the bankrupt I am." His experience is the experience of many others who, less wise, do not know what is the goblin of the house, working its destruction. A sagacious father of great wealth, exceedingly mortified his daughter by ordering to be printed on her wedding cards, "No presents except those adapted to an income of $1,000." Said he, "You must not expect to begin life in the style I am able, by many years of labor, to indulge: and I know of nothing that will tempt you more than the well-intentioned but pernicious gifts of rich friends." Such advice to a daughter was timely.

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®

The Independent.

Two Dollars a year, in advance.

Massillon, Wednesday, November 20.

The late great fire at Boston, by which the losses are estimated at $100,000,000, the people, although at first much depressed at the severe calamity, are said now to be cheerful, and are now going right to work, taking measures for rebuilding. Everybody who has been at that city represents that many of its streets were very tortuous, crooked, and that they were labaryntha. Here a stranger could not avoid being lost. An impression,—it may be mere a legend—is prevalent that these streets were laid out by cows, who made pathways through the original forest, which once covered the site now known as the Hub, or Athens of America. And it looks plausible when we examine the numerous newspaper maps which have appeared since the fire, indicating its locality and outlining the crookedness of the streets and avenues. As the destruction of buildings on the burnt area is complete—nothing left worth preserving—the people and authorities, it is now said, have decided to re-survey the ground and lay out streets in straight lines, and let them cross at right angles. This will be an improvement, which, great as was the loss by fire, that will in some degree compensate for the destruction the place and people suffered. The streets will also be made wider, and more care taken in the construction of buildings, with a view to increased safety. A general condemnation of what is called the Mansard roof is indulged in, as the way in which it was constructed made it a mass of possible, combustible material. It will not be that this style of roof is so liable to be deprecated, as the manner in which it was put up. Composed entirely of wood, sometimes sixty or fifty feet from the ground, covered with slate or sheet iron, it proved a dangerous and fatal trap to hundreds of buildings; for because of the narrow streets and high houses it was almost quite impossible to send water to such a hight as to be effective. Hundreds of thousands of dollars have been contributed by other cities and towns to aid Boston, and the state authorities express a willingness to cooperate in this way, but it is reported as a rule, the business men who have lost much, prefer to go on their remaining resources, as they can see their way through by this means. Others who need it should and will be helped.

Since Mr. Greeley has resumed the editorship of the Tribune it begins to read as in other days. He proposes to not be the organ of any party, but freely criticise and discuss the pretensions of all. Taking the course it did during the late campaign, the Tribune evidently lost many friends, thousands of whom stuck by it for the last twenty years, and it will require many other years to again secure that confidence and prestige it once enjoyed, even if it ever does so. It has always been conducted with signal ability, and as long as Mr. Greeley don't switch off and try to be president, or do some other fantastic trick, the paper will have friends and patrons. But as to the vast influence it once had it looks to many as if it never can be regained.

A few days ago the chiefs of the Liberal republicans, and democrats met at Columbus and issued an address. This document is characterized by the two words which marked all the prophesies of that party previous to the election—If and But. Then we were told that If Greeley received enough votes he would be elected. It turns out, But he did n't get enough votes. They acknowledge the But, but claim it to be small. If they are satisfied the rest of us can stand it. The Liberals wanted to change the name to that of Liberal Party, but the democrats could not see it. In 1876 the big thing is to be done, provided they do not again but ed off the track.

The impression prevails among people that the epidemics now affecting the animals of this country is the precursor of more serious visitations, perhaps within a year, which will come upon the people in the shape of cholera. It is highly probable that this will be the result, and the best we can do is to get ready for it.

Because of the horse disease we understand that the mail did not come from or go to Wilmot for several days, and on Monday the mail carrier came with his charge on foot—some ten miles. This is but one evidence of the general prevalence of the epizooty in our part of the country. It is hoped the affliction will be short. Down east a plague has just broken out among the chickens, and if general it may interfere with the thanksgiving arrangements. Remember that the president and our governor unite in naming Thursday the 28th inst, to be observed in the usual way.

Although the election is over the Carrollton papers continue to keep up a wordy war. The Free Press says—Somebody in digging a cellar found a skeleton and portions of a tombstone, but the oldest inhabitant knows nothing about how they got there. Also, that there was a horse run away on the streets—that winter is coming, and various other things—and the epizooty is in the land.

The New Lisobn Patriot says—Daniel Smith, who killed Grover at Wellsville some months ago, has been sent to the penitentiary for a term of years for manslaughter—That court is over and many cases decided—that Saunders, a horse thief, was sent to the state prison for three years—that Greeley is not elected—that Mr Dennis has delivered a course of lectures at that place—the usual number of flings at women, and other matters. The Journal of the same place says the large clock is about being put in position on the fine new court house, which will relieve Mr Beck, who is the champion bell-ringer of America, of a great deal of labor, which he has been performing for the last century—that the epizooty is there, &c.

The Miner & Manufacturer of Youngstown is too big, but is a good paper—gives much information as to the movements of miners, and a thousand other matters

Our Orrville neighbor of the Crescent says the epizooty is there too—that a portion of the burnt district is being rebuilt—that a sensible little girl asks visitors not to write on her school desk—that the good people of Dalton are troubled with too many meetings in their schoolhouse.

The Tribune begins to read as it used to do before it fell from grace, but it will take a long time to restore it to that confidence it once enjoyed.

Youngstown papers say that another boiler explosion took place on the 11th inst, at the establishment of Brown, Bunnell & Co., resulting in the death of four men, and wounding several others. This is the second accident of that kind at that rolling mill within much less than a year.

Our thoroughly old fashioned democratic neighbor of the Warren Constitution, like all the rest of his tribe, seems very cross about Grant's re-election. The epizooty is there too.

Bro Sanderson has sold the Niles Independent to S P McDonald & Son. The Independent, like all other papers of that name, has been a capital weekly, and always alive for the right.

Brick Pomeroy's Democrat is illustrated with coarse but expressive wood cuts. His last is thunder and lightning on some of the big preachers.

At Columbiana the Register says horses have the common trouble, but none reported fatal. It reports a successful teachers institute at Salem.

According to the Wooster Republican the people there are talking up more railroad. Epizooty is there too. Grant's re-election makes the editors much glad.

A general wail goes up from the democratic papers that Grant is to take the presidency for life. It makes them feel bad.

A writer in the Mansfield Herald very properly suggests that it is a good time to fix up the roads for winter use. Another whisky murder took place in that town—a man killed his wife. But such accidents are so common as to excite little attention.

Since the recent election our Rep & Rep brethren of Canton are in great good humor. In their last it is announced that the 40th anniversary of Rev Herbruck's church will take place on the 23d inst—they have a lovely fall, and the epizooty is about.

The sixth general council of the Lutheran church has recently been held at Akron, of which the Beacon gives a full account. Of course the Beacon is jubilant at the more than 2000 majority for Grant in Summit county Epizooty is there too.

Bro McGregor, of the Big Democrat makes an excellent suggestion, that evening schools be started at Canton, as there are many youths who should attend them. Such institutions would be very useful here. But our neighbor is not pleased at the result of the election, and bro Allen of the Steubenville Gazette is no better pleased. Charley is terribly agitated about temperance hypocrites. In this district we had some specimens of that sort, but they were fierce for Greeley.

Bro Lewis of the True Press, Alliance, gets up a good paper, attends well to locals, but when he encounters politics, literature or morals is apt to be long-winded We don't look on it as a fault, though it may be a misfortune.

A Semi-Centenial.—1823—1872—The fifty years of the New York Observer are completed, and to signalize the event the publishers are about to present to each subscriber a memento in the shape of a Jubilee Year Book, which is to be embellished with appropriate illustrations and historical remembrances. Fifty years of unceasing prosperity in a public journal, while pursuing the same undeviating course, may well inspire its friends with confidence and strong attachment. We are informed that subscribers to the Observer are usually subscribers for life. It has never gone backward since its first appearance on the stage; and it bids fair, judging from its present position, to double its circulation and influence in the near future It stands unmistakably at the head of the religious family press. $3 a year. Sidney E Morse & Co., 37 Park Row, N. Y.

A flying jaunt to Columbia City, Indiana, a pleasant town on the railroad to Chicago, some 250 miles west of Massillon, discovered that several of our Massillon and other Stark county friends are living there; and what is gratifying are prospering in business. The Hose Brothers, Jacob and Fred, natives of this place, are doing a thriving trade; and Joseph Gachette, formerly of Canton, proprietor of the Union House, knows how to keep a hotel, and entertains his guests in splendid style. Visitors from these parts to that town will be warmly welcomed by our friends in that part of Hoosierdom—our experience has proved this. Their hospitality will make any who visit them heartily welcome

Some of our physicians and druggists are doing what they can to alleviate the distemper of sick horses, which are now so common everywhere. Their advice in general is not to work the sick animals, nor dose them heroically, but administer small quantities of medicine, prescribed by judicious experienced and competent men, who understand what they are doing. If proper sanitary measures are applied the trouble will probably not last long—though as it is something new to many, perhaps time only can tell how long the epidemic may continue.

The committee of the Y M C A of this place announce to the public that an oyster supper and social will take place at the American hotel to-morrow evening, for the benefit of the free reading room. Oyster supper 40 cents; ice cream and cake, 20 c. Admission free.

PLANTATION BITTERS.

S. T.—1860—X.

This wonderful vegetable restorative is the sheet anchor of the feeble and debilitated. As a tonic and cordial for the aged and languid it has no equal among stomachics. As a remedy for the nervous weakness to which women were especially subject, it is superceding every other stimulant. In all climates, tropical, temperate or frigid, it acts as a specific in every species of disorder which undermine sthe bodily strength and breaks down the animal spirits. 444-1y

Mexican Mustang Liniment

For Man and Beast.

Probably few articles have ever had so extensive a sale, while none have been more universally beneficial than the celebrated Mexican Mustang Liniment. Children, Adults, Horses, and domestic animals, are always liable to accident, and it is safe to say, that no family can pass a single season without some kind of emoliment being necessary. It becomes a matter of importance then to secure the best.

Over three hundred livery stables in the city of New York alone are using the Mexican Mustang Liniment, in all of which it gives unusual satisfaction.

CAUTION.—The genuine is wrapped in a fine steel plate engraving with G. W. Westbrook, Chemist, and Trade Mark, Mexican Mustang Liniment, engraved across the face of each wrapper. The whole bears the proprietor's private U S revenue stamp, and not a common stamp as used by druggists. Lyon Manufacturing Co., 53, Park Place, New York. no2—447-1y.

Grand Gift Concert.

Postponed to December 7th, 1872.

The Second Grand Gift Concert in aid of the public library of Kentucky, announced for Sept 28, has been postponed to December 7, 1872, because the accumulation of orders the few days before the drawing made it impossible to fill them without a few days delay, and as a short postponement was inevitable, it was determined to defer it to a time that would make a full drawing sure by the sale of all the tickets.

The money necessary to pay in full al the offered gifts is now on deposit in the Farmers' and Drovers' Bank, as will be seen by the following certificate of the cashier.

The Great Cause

Of Human Misery.

Just published, in a sealed envelope. Price six cents. A lecture on the nature, treatment and radical cure of spematorrhea, or seminal weakness, involuntary seminal losses, impotency, physical and mental incapacity, impediments to marriage, etc; also consumption, epilepsy and fits, induced by self indulgence or sexual extravagance.

The celebrated author, in this admirable essay, clearly demonstrates, from a thirty years successful practice, that the alarming consequences of self abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

This lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

Rev W. H. Dean, rector of St. Timothy's Episcopal church, of this place, will preach for the last time in this parish on next Sunday evening. He removes to Medina, where he immediately enters on the duties of his calling, and we are sure will be welcomed by the people of his new charge. The friends of Bro. Dean in this place regret this change, as he has won the esteem of many, and especially of the advocates of temperance.

How about that editorial convention at Salem? Bro. Hays, of Carrollton, like ourselves, is also inquiring after it. We expected to find something of it in the Salem Republican, but last week's hadn't come to this office at this writing.

Since the adventure of the taurus, which so scattered the inmates of the Excelsior office one day last week, it has been suggested that general safety requires that such animals be not permitted on our streets without having a lasso or halter, so as to keep them from perpetrating mischief. When driven along our thoroughfares they often become excited, furious and unmanageable, so that it would be quite unsafe for women or children to be on the streets when one of these infuriated beasts is at liberty It is true the one which did the fantastic tricks the other day was chained or hobbled in some way, so as to restrain him somewhat, but with even this precaution he made himself dangerous. Our butchers are generally cautious in these things, and this warning will make them more so.

Our Cleveland, Akron and Canton neighbors are again agitating the question of making the Valley railroad, which is designed to connect them directly. The two last named places have subscribed their shares, but Cleveland has not yet done so. One million dollars is to be raised by Cleveland, and the mayor has named a day on which the citizens are called on to vote for tax or no tax on the question. The probability is that it will carry—that is, the vote for tax, for such methods always prevail in other places. Next work is to raise the money.

Bro. Buehl, pastor of the St Paul's Lutheran church, is a man of excellent taste and judgment in fixing up his glebe. It is surrounded by a neat osage orange fence, and the enclosed ground is ornamented with evergreens and willows. The evergreens are placed in rows radiating from the church to the fence, giving the place a very neat and regular appearance. Everything on the ground is in its place—weeds are not permitted to encumber the ground, and in their season beds of choice flowers ornament portions of the premises. Bro Buehl would make a capital gardener if he wished to devote his time and labor in that way.

If the learned editors and astute reporters of daily and weekly papers will consult Webster's big dictionary they will soon quit using epizootic for epizooty. The last named word is a noun—a thing—and a very bad thing among horses, while the other ending in ic, is an adjective. Ask the schoolmaster and see if this is not thus. While in this vein another mispronunciation might as well be noted. Years ago the New York Tribune protested against being pronounced Try-bune—Trib-une, the editors say, is right—the little i is sounded as in the word it.

CHEAP READING.—In order to introduce the American Stock Journal into the homes of new readers, the enterprising publishers have put up 300,000 copies, in packages of 3 each, which they offer to send free to all who enclose stamp to pay postage. As the three numbers contain near 100 pages of choice articles, valuable receipts, engravings of farm quildings, horses, cattle, sheep, hogs, dogs, poultry, pigeons, &c., we hope all our subscribers will send for it, also for a show bill and premium list, as splendid inducements are offered to Agents and subscribers. Address, N. P. Boyer & Co., Parksburgh, Chester county, Pa.

Sometimes things gets mixed in the news. papers. Last week, on first page, 7th column, was the boy's essay on Oxen—about half way down some column was the introduction. A late number of the Cincinnati Commercial had the word Died over a half column of marriages, and the word Married over a half column of deaths.

Property transfered.—M L Miller to J Stumpfler, lot in East Brookfield, $500; Kent Jarvis to Killinger and others, lot in Massillon, 4,731; J F Bordner to J G Bucher, one acre in Bethlehem, 2000; S Lahm to F Rigger, 40 acres, Perry tp, 5 00; H Shardnagle to J P White, lot in Massillon, 1450; D C pe to R Pollock, lot in North Lawrence, 155; J Allen to J Hodgson, lot in Tuscarawas tp, 800; Clapper & Morris, lot in Lawrence tp, 300.

A fatal accident occurred last Saturday at Foltz's coal shaft John Kimmerer, a citizen of this place, aged about 34 years, was at work when a large stone fell upon him by which he was injured so that he died in a short time. Being a member of one of the fire companies many of his comrades, dressed in uniform, attended his funeral, last Monday, which took place at the German Catholic cemetery.

A portion of the time tables printed at this office for free distribution unfortunately contained one wrong figure. No. 6 express going east, is printed 7-53 a m—it should be 7-43. Another chance for critics—those happy chaps who never make mistakes—to harp on. Let them harp.

An impression and report were current last week that passenger trains would commence running about the 15th, but railroad men say that, as the depots are not yet completed and much of the road not yet ballasted, it is not probable that passenger trains will begin running before the first of December, and that is not far off. Track layers reach New Philadelphia to-day or to-morrow. It is not yet fully decided whether the road will terminate at Dennison or go on to some other point—but that won't hinder an early working of the road.

A great portion of the horses here are more or less affected with the prevailing distemper—so much is this the case that many kinds of business is embarrassed, and for this reason we are informed that the paper mill is stopped for want of straw.

The Christian Dime Society will meet at Mrs James Miller's, Mill street, on Monday evening, Nov. 25th. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

PRINTER'S INK.—Almost daily we are appealed to, to advertise for some unknown customer, who promises well to send the pay when the work is done, and used some times to comply with such requests, but in nine cases out of ten the pay never comes, so we now give no attention to such applicants, unless they send the pay in advance. Scores of pianos and organs can be had by advertising them (cheap) to half the amount of prices asked, if we forward the other half in cash. We have not invested in that way. Printers have a special fondness for books, and publishers often tempt them to insert their notices for which they will send, very often, a good work, and we are apt to take up such offers. So also with favorite magazines—we plead guilty to doing service for them. The picture men, too, we see, are having many advertisements inserted to be paid for in their stock—and it is an amiable failing that many printers work for the beautiful in advertising, and who can blame them? And the season is soon coming when some of our daily brethren will be asking a corner for their papers—sometimes a pretty big corner—for which they will favor us with their diurnal visits. Is it unreasonable that we should accede to their request? at least a few of them. These puffs, and notices, and specials are asked for by hundreds of other business men, and good naturedly many of us acquiesce in these requests. While all this is going on how is it with the printer? In the first place he invests from two to five thousand dollars in the business—then labors for years to acquire a reputation (if he don't bust up)—and all this time his material is wearing out. Every week his expenses are from $25 to $100, for he must keep up stock in variety, which is expensive and indispensable—he must pay cash for help every week, and a hundred incidentals are continually piling up against him, so where does he get his pay for his time, care and fatigue from incessant labor?—for he knows no rest. There must be a revenue somewhere. Subscriptions go but a small way toward meeting expenses; for that reason we must have pay for advertising and job work. A sign painter does a good job and gets fair pay, but his production is in only one place—the printer multiplies these signs so they can be put everywhere, and this is often the secret of the wealth of those who invest liberally in the use of printers ink. Reader, if in public business, go thou and do likewise.

Saturday and Sunday, Dec 7th and 8th, the 3d quarterly meeting of this conference year will beheld at the M. E. church of this place. Bro. Nesbit, presiding elder of Canton district, is expected to preach. He was formerly editor of the Pittsburgh Christian Advocate, and conducted the paper successfully as he was qualified for such a position. It is not often that a printer turns preacher, as the craft is reputed somewhat sceptical, and it is even so, but once in a while such a phenomenon turns up—for some of the jour printers can adapt themselves to any calling or profession in life. And sometimes preachers come to be editors, so that if not actual brother craftsmen they may be styled brothers-in-law, and as such we regard bro. Nesbit.

On the last day of the fair (or rather the Saturday following) it will be remembered that an improved corn husker was exhibited, whose operations were satisfactory to all who saw them. Edwin Bayliss, proprietor of the Excelsior Works of this place, who always is on the look out for improvements in agricultural implements, secured the right to manufacture these huskers; and has already built several, which have been sent to other parts of Ohio, also, to Pennsylvania, Indiana, and Illinois, as we are informed. Where large areas of corn are raised one of these machines seems indispensable. It will rapidly husk the corn, whether cut off the stalk or not, and does its work satisfactorily and with great rapidity.

Last Friday and Saturday we had a sharp nip of winter, when scattering flakes of snow fell, the ground was frozen, and blustering northwesters faced the traveler with borean fierceness. In some places the canal was frozen over so that the boys, on Saturday—possibly Sunday too—indulged in the use of skates. Before winter finally sets in the general desire is, that we have more rain, as the ground is dry, and springs and wells in many places more or less exhausted of their watery supplies. Sunday morning the sun shone brightly, but the rigid atmosphere rendered going out doors anything but agreeable. Buggy riding was scarce in consequence of the general sickness of horses.

Holbrook & Co's Herald of Health, published at New York, comes as regularly as the months pass away, and is always freighted with the best of advice to those in search of that inestimable blessing, good health. Among the very best writers on hygiene are contributors to its pages, and every number is enriched by their productions. Old as well as modern writers have a place every month in this Herald of Health.

The Nursery, that model little monthly for little people, published at Boston, continues to make its welcome visits to the hosts of tiny readers all over the land. Let us hope that the recent calamitous fire has not harmed this favorite.

MARRIED

On the 14th inst., by Rev. R. L. Williams, Mathias Hammen, of Canton, and Angelina Swigert, of Massillon.

On the 19th inst by Rev E. Hingeley, Mr. Jacob Foltz and Miss Anna Dora Plum all of this place.

DIED

On the 14th inst at her residence in this city, Cassandra Demuth, wife of G. W. Demuth, in the 34th year of her age.

On the 14th inst, at the residence of George Harsh, Esq., of this city, Mrs. Rachel Hull, in the 63d year of her age Mrs. H. was, with her late husband, at one time a resident here, but in later years they lived at Findley where he died. The remains of the deceased were taken to Findley for burial, on last Friday.

For many years, Mrs Hull had lived a Christian life, "adorning the doctrine of God, her Saviour, in all things," and died resting and rejoicing in hope of the glory of God Her last words were, "Meet me in Heaven."

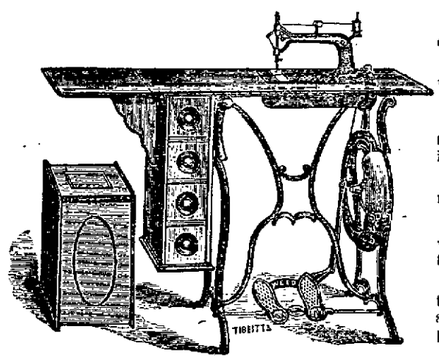
LADIES! DON'T GET IN A HURRY,

When about to purchase a Sewing Machine, but take time to give

THE WEED "FAMILY FAVORITE"

A thorough examination and trial, and you will be convinced of the following facts.



1. That it runs faster than any other Shuttle Machine.
2. That it is the simplest and most convenient machine to operate in the market.
3. That it is the easiest machine to oil and clean, every part being in plain sight.
4. It has no acting spring, every motion being positive.
5. It has a brake on balance wheel to prevent the machine from running backwards.
6. The new shuttle and upper tension, which have recently been added are the simplest and most perfect yet introduced.

136 Mulberry street, Newark, N J,

During the past ten years Dr. Carpenter has treated and cured thousands of cases of the above named diseases, and has now in his possession certificates of cures from every part of the country. The inhalation is breathed directly into the lungs, soothing and healing over all inflamed surfaces, entering into the blood, it imparts vitality as it permeates to every part of the system. The sensation is not unpleasant, and the first inhalation often gives very decided relief, particularly when there is much difficulty of breathing. Under the influence of my remedies, the cough soon grows easier, the night sweats cease, the hectic flush vanishes, and with improving digestion the patient rapidly gains strength, and health is again within his grasp.

The concentrated food rapidly builds up the most debilitated patient, presenting to the stomach food all ready to be assimilated and made into good, rich, healthy blood

The cough syrup is to be taken at night to alleviate the cough and enable the patient to obtain sleep. Full directions accompany each box of my remedies, which consists of

One Inhaler, one bottle of Alterative Inhalant, one bottle of Soothing Febrifuge Inhalant, one bottle of Anti-Hæmorragic Inhalant, one bottle of Concentrated Food, and one bottle Cough Syrup.

Price of box containing remedies to last one month, $10; two months 18 three months 25.

The Warning has been Heeded.

Since the exposure of the stratagems made by certain unscrupulous dealers, to palm off their coarse astringents, made from cheap and impure materials, in the place of the great national tonic, Hostetter's Stomach bitters, public opinion has set strongly against these empirics and their preparations. Their occupation is gone, or soon will be. When the light is let into deception it soon wilts down. Persons who trifle with their own health by using unknown preparations, with no guarantee to sustain them, when an established specific, proven by twenty years experience to be exactly what it is claimed to be, is within their reach, are sure to repent their temerity. Many have done so in this instance, but is hoped that the truth plainly spoken has arrested the evil. In the meantime the demand for the leading protective and restorative medicine of America was never so great as it has been this season. From the fever and ague districts of the west southwest, and south, it is literally overwhelming, and it may be said of the advices from all parts of the country of the cures it is effecting in dispensia, bilious complaint, and chronic constipation, and their name is legion. Everywhere the sick and feeble seem to have realized the importance of holding fast that which is good, and of avoiding what is spurious and dangerous.

The numerous bitters, under various names, which mercenary dealers endeavor to substitute for Hostetter's stomach bitters, should be avoided, for their own sakes, by the sick and the public at large. Hostetter's Bitters are procurable in bottles only, and never sold in bulk.

A Pekin (Ill) woman was asked by the preacher if her husband feared the Lord. She replied: "Fear him? Why, bless you, he is so 'feared of him that he never goes out of the house on Sunday without taking his gun along."

Any hard steel tool, says the Boston Journal of Chemistry, will cut glass when kept wet with camphor dissolved in turpentine. The ragged edges of glass vessels may be thus easily smoothed by a flat file.

The inventive genius of the country, according to the patent office returns, has had a most extraordinary development within the past five years. Up to 1850 the patents but once reached 1000 per annum. From that period until 1860 no year showed 5000 patents, while the average of five past has been over 13,000 per annum.

Three little boys were disputing as to whose father said the shortest grace. "My father says, 'Lord we thank you for these provisions.'" Second boy. "And mine says, 'Father, bless this food to us.'" Third boy, "Ah, but mine's the best of all; he shoves his plate toward mamma and says, 'Darn ye, fill up.'"

Somebody is still pondering the old question, whether a promissory note written and signed with a lead pencil is valid in law. Mr. Story and the courts have long since decided that the pencil carries with it quite as much of an obligation as a steel pen or goose quill.

Professor Wheildon, of Concord, Mass., advances, in opposition to what is known as the Gulf Stream theory, an atmospheric theory to account for ameliorations of climate and an open sea in the polar regions. The accounts of arctic voyages, it is stated, show sudden rises of temperature when nothing but an unlimited extent of ice is near. These changes, it is considered, could not have been consequences of proximity of open water which, at best would be 29 deg. temperature. The theory of professor Wheildon is that open water, melting ice, rain after snow, and other phenomena of the sort in arctic regions, are not caused by winds warmed by an open sea, but by a circulation of air in which warm winds descend from upper atmospheres; being a circulation by which winds heated at the equator reach the poles.

$1000 Reward is offered by the proprietor of Dr Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for a medicine that will equal it in the cure of bronchitis, severe coughs, and the early stages of consumption.

Grateful Greetings—The heart that is made glad rejoices with an uncommon joy, the sick man who has been restored to health feels his heart warm with gratitude in the renewal of that life, and he bestows his grateful feelings upon those who have been instrumental in the work of restoration. We ask those who have been benefitted by Dr Keyser's Lung Cure to speak its virtues far and wide, sound its praises long and loud, until every sufferer in the land has heard of its extraordinary merits. There is no use in disputing its efficacy. Its cures, its principles of action, its scientific combination, will at once set to flight all biased and mercenary opposition. The cures it has made, the long experience of Dr Keyser in the compounding of medicine, his success as a practitioner in lung diseases, all stamp it as a reliable and extraordinary medicine, whose equal has never yet been compounded.

The Doctor's cures here in this city are numerous and reliable. But what is of more value to the consumptive than all this, is the hope and prospect of a cure after all the ordinary means have failed. Try Dr Keyser's lung cure. Sold at 157 Liberty st, Pittsburgh, Pa., at $1,50 a bottle, or four for $5. Private office back of the store, from 10 a m, to 4 p m, and from 3 to 6 p m, except Sunday and Tuesday.

Holloway's Pills and Ointment are the only medicinal preparations necessary in families. The Pills regulate all the internal organs with unerring certainty; the Ointment is a positive antidote to all external diseases. Sold 78 Maiden Lane, N Y. Price, 25 cents per pot or box. Ask for new styles the old is counterfeited.

Beautiful Women.—The hair is the crowning glory of woman. There are few inherited defects which cannot be remedied by the proper disposition of the tresses. But when the hair begins to fall out, or turn gray, in young people, or with those in the prime of life, there is cause for real regret. When this is the case, Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer will be found to be a first class remedy, far superior, as a sound medical medium, to anything else before the public. It actually restores gray hair to its original color, and in the great majority of cases, causes it to grow again when it is becoming thin. It is not like many popular preparations, a mere wash, but a scientific discovery, indorsed and used by physicians of character. Address R. P. Hall & Co., Nashua, N. H.

DON'T

Be deceived, but for coughs, colds, sore throat, hoarseness and bronchial difficulties, use only

Dr Wells' Carbolic Tablets.

Worthless imitations are on the market, but the only scientific preparation of carbolic acid for lung diseases is when chemically combined with other well known remedies, as in these tablets, and all parties are cautioned against using any other.

In all cases of irritation of the mucous membrane these tablets should be freely used, their cleansing and healing properties are astonishing.

Be warned, never neglect a cold, it is easily cured in its incipient state, when it becomes chronic the cure is exceedingly difficult, use Wells Carbolic Tablets as a specific.

It is a powerful alterative and tonic, and safe relief to the sufferer for the first few doses, but which from continued use brings pain and kindred diseases to aid in weakening the invalid, nor is it a doctored liquor, which, under the popular name of bitters is so extensively palmed off on the public as sovereign remedies, but is a most powerful tonic and alterative, pronounced so by the leading medical authorities of London and Paris, and has been long used by the regular physicians of other countries with wonderful remedial results.

Dr Wells' Extract of Jurubeba

restores all the medicinal virtues peculiar to the plant and must be taken as a permanent curative agent.

Is there want of action in your liver and spleen? Unless relieved at once, the blood becomes impure by deleterious secretions, producing scrofulous or skin diseases, felons, blotches, pustules, carbuncles, &c.

Take Jurubeba to cleanse, purify and restore the vitiated blood to healthy action.

Have you dyspeptic stomach? Unless digestion is promptly aided the system is debilitated with loss of vital force, poverty of the blood, dropsical tendency, general weakness or lassitude.

Have you weakness of the intestines? You are in danger of chronic diarrhœa or the dreadful inflammation of the bowels.

Take it to allay irritation and ward off tendency to inflammation.

Have you weakness of the Uterine or urinary organs? You must procure instantly relief or you are liable to suffering worse than death.

Take it to strengthen organic weakness or life becomes a burden.

Finally it should be frequently taken to keep the system in perfect health or you are otherwise in great danger of malarial, miasmatic or contagious diseases.

Ayer's Ague Cure,

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

℞ No one remedy is louder called for by the necessities of the American people than a sure and safe cure for Fever and Ague. Such we are now enabled to offer, with a perfect certainty that it will eradicate the disease, and with assurance, founded on proof, that no harm can arise from its use in any quantity.

That which protects from or prevents this disorder must be of immense service in the communities where it prevails. Prevention is better than cure; for the patient escapes the risk which he must run in violent attacks of this baleful distemper. This "CURE" expels the miasmatic poison of Fever and Ague from the system, and prevents the development of the disease, if taken on the first approach of its premonitory symptoms. A great superiority of this remedy over any other ever discovered for the speedy and certain cure of Intermittents is, that it contains no Quinine or mineral; consequently it produces no quinism or other injurious effects whatever upon the constitution. Those cured by it are left as healthy as if they had never had the disease.

Fever and Ague is not alone the consequence of the miasmatic poison. A great variety of disorders arise from its irritation, among which are Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Headache, Blindness, Toothache, Earache, Catarrh, Asthma, Palpitation, Painful Affection of the Spleen, Hysterics, Pain in the Bowels, Colic, Paralysis, and derangement of the Stomach, all of which, when originating in this cause, put on the intermittent type, or become periodical. This "CURE" expels the poison from the blood, and consequently cures them all alike. It is an invaluable protection to immigrants and persons travelling or temporarily residing in the malarious districts. If taken occasionally or daily while exposed to the infection, that will be expelled from the system, and cannot accumulate in sufficient quantity to ripen into disease. Hence it is even more valuable for protection than cure; and few will ever suffer from Intermittents if they avail themselves of the protection this remedy affords.

For Liver Complaints, arising from torpidity of the Liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating the Liver into healthy activity, and producing many truly remarkable cures, where other medicines fail.

In the world of medicine to which the afflicted gaze above portrait (or cut), the discoverer believes he has combined in one harmonious mixture Nature's most successful curative properties, which God has distributed throughout the vegetable kingdom for healing purposes, that were never before combined in one medicine. The evidence of this fact is found in the greatest variety and most astonishing cures ever known in this or any country. In the cure of bronchitis, severe coughs, all forms of consumption, long standing or recent, and all diseases of the throat, lungs, liver and blood, and in purifying the blood, and restoring the system to perfect health, these wonderful curative agents have proved themselves unequaled by any other known remedies. Where there is a tendency to Consumption, these powerful purifying and invigorating agents will check the progress of the disease, and restore the patient to perfect health. In all cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, and never fails to effect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy. For the cure of Habitual Constipation of the bowels it is a never failing remedy, and those who have used it for this purpose are loud in its praises.

The proprietor offers $1,000 reward for a medicine that will equal it for the cure of all the diseases for which it is recommended.

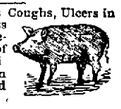
This preparation, long and favorably known, will thoroughly re-invigorate broken down and low-spirited horses, by strengthening and cleansing the stomach and intestines.

It is a sure preventive of all diseases incident to this animal, such as LUNG FEVER, GLANDERS, YELLOW WATER, HEAVES, COUGHS, DISTEMPER, FEVERS, FOUNDER, LOSS OF APPETITE AND VITAL ENERGY, &c. Its use improves the wind, increases the appetite—gives a smooth and glossy skin—and transforms the miserable skeleton into a fine-looking and spirited horse.

To keepers of Cows this preparation is invaluable. It is a sure preventive against Rinderpest, Hollow Horn, etc. It has been proven by actual experiment to increase the quantity of milk and cream twenty per cent. and make the butter firm and sweet. In fattening cattle, it gives them an appetite, loosens their hide, and makes them thrive much faster.



In all diseases of Swine, such as Coughs, Ulcers in the Lungs, Liver, &c., this article acts as a specific. By putting from one-half a paper to a paper in a barrel of swill the above diseases will be eradicated or entirely prevented. If given in time, a certain preventive and cure for the Hog Cholera.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For the relief and cure of all derangements in the stomach, liver, and bowels. They are a mild aperient, and an excellent purgative. Being purely vegetable, they contain no mercury or mineral whatever. Much serious sickness and suffering is prevented by their timely use; and every family should have them on hand for their protection and relief, when required. Long experience has proved them to be the safest, surest, and best of all the Pills with which the market abounds. By their occasional use, the blood is purified, the corruptions of the system expelled, obstructions removed, and the whole machinery of life restored to its healthy activity. Internal organs which become clogged and sluggish are cleansed by Ayer's Pills, and stimulated into action. Thus incipient disease is changed into health, the value of which change, when reckoned on the vast multitudes who enjoy it, can hardly be computed. Their sugar-coating makes them pleasant to take, and preserves their virtues unimpaired for any length of time, so that they are ever fresh, and perfectly reliable. Although searching, they are mild, and operate without disturbance to the constitution or diet or occupation.

Full directions are given on the wrapper to each box, how to use them as a Family Physic, and for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor, and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach, and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action, or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back, and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the disease action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings, they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression, a large dose should be taken, as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion, and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.

HOLLOWAY'S

PILLS AND OINTMENT.

Every Man his own Physician.

CAUTION.

THE immense demand for HOLLOWAY'S PILLS and OINTMENT has tempted unprincipled parties to counterfeit these valuable medicines.

In order to protect the public and ourselves, we have issued a new "Trade Mark," consisting of an Egyptian circle of a serpent, with the letter H in the centre. Every box of genuine HOLLOWAY'S PILLS and OINTMENT will have this trade mark on it; none are genuine without it.

Wishart's Pine Tree

TAR CORDIAL,

Nature's Great Remedy

FOR THE

Throat and Lungs.

It is gratifying to us to inform the public that Dr L Q C Wishart's Pine Tree tar Cordial, for throat and lung diseases, has gained an enviable fame from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast, and from thence to some of the first families of Europe, not through the press alone, but by persons throughout the states actually benefitted and cured at his office. While he publishes less; so say our reporters, he is unable to supply the demand. It gains and holds its reputation—

First. Not by stopping cough, but by loosening and assisting nature to throw off the unhealthy matter collected about the throat and bronchial tubes, which causes irritation.

Second. It removes the cause of irritation (which produces cough) of the mucous membrane and bronchial tubes, assists the lungs to act and throw off the unhealthy secretions and purifies the blood.

Third. It is free from squills, lobelia, ipecac and opium, of which most throat and lung remedies are composed, which allay the cough only, and disorganize the stomach. It has a soothing effect on the stomach, acts on the liver and kidneys, and lymphatic and nervous regions, thus reaching to every part of the system, and in its invigorating and purifying effects it has gained a reputation which it holds above all others in the market.

NOTICE.

The Pine Tree Tar Cordial,

Great American Dyspepsia Pills,

And Worm Sugar Drops

Being under my immediate direction, they shall not lose their curative qualities by the use of the cheap and impure articles.
